A Stony Plain Centre Mystery Solved.

Hans was tired! He had been stooking heavy sheaves all day—and it had been a long day. So, as the Boss pulled by on the binder, and started up the field with his back to Hans, the latter retired to a close by shady nook. A little distance in, he seated himself on a log and closed his eyes. On re-opening them, his gaze became riveted on a newly-made mound a short distance away about 6' long by 2'.

Hans felt the goose-flesh creeping over him, and ducked back to his stooking.

At tea-time the Boss noticed Hans was not eating up his usual quantity of grub, and inquired the cause.

"Ach!" replied Hans. "I eat noddings! Dunder and blirzen! Der vos a murder!"

"Murder!" ejaculated the Boss. "Hans, you talk like foolishness."

"Vell," said Hans, "you come der place by, I show you."

The two went to the place, and there, sure enough, was a freshly-made man's size grave.

The phone was called into requisition, and the hot news flashed to the proper authorities.

On the appearance of these weapons, shovels were produced and an effort made to dig up the victim of the suspected crime.

About 4' down the aroma indicated the diggers were near their quarry, when suddenly a long black tail was unearthed, followed shortly by the uncovering of a black furry object.

On this the diggers looked sorrowfully at each other, held their respective noses, and beat it out of the bush, fully convinced a close-by neighbor had trespassed on the land and buried a defunct canine without asking by-your-leave.

The Conference Of Premiers

At the invitation of the Dominion Government there will assemble at Ottawa early in November a conference of representatives of the Federal Government and of all the Provincial Governments at which consideration will be given to the many questions affecting the interests and rights of the Dominion and its several provinces. This conference will be attended by the Dominion Prime Minister and some of his colleagues and by all nine Provincial Premiers who in each case will be accompanied by cabinet colleagues.

The object of this round table conference is, of course, to discuss problems common to all and endeavor to find satisfactory solutions, to adjust any differences now existing, to try and harmonize conflicting laws, eliminate overlapping in administration, and, in general, to study the financial requirements of the several governmental units. In a word, it is co-operation for the good of all Canada. Its importance, therefore, does not call for any special emphasis.

This conference of Canadian Premiers is designed to accomplish for Canada something similar to what the recent Imperial Conference at London accomplished for the Empire as a whole. For example, the exact status of the Dominion and its several provinces in regard to certain subjects requires to be clarified. There is now conflict of authority in matters of Company law, incorporation and regulation, including licensing of companies. In insurance matters particularly there is more or less confusion.

Again, most of the Provinces are anxious to exercise strict supervision and control over the sale of stocks and bonds of companies, and several Provincial Legislatures enacted what are termed "blue sky" laws for the protection of the investing public, only to find that all companies had to do to escape Provincial jurisdiction was to become incorporated under Dominion law. The Provinces desire Federal action to overcome this difficulty.

Another matter which is causing adverse comment throughout the country is the duplication of police forces, with consequent division of authority, sometimes leading to overlapping and consequent friction, sometimes resulting in lack of co-operation. In any event, people feel there is an unnecessary waste of the taxpayers' money with Dominion, Provincial and Municipal police. The Premiers' Conference will give consideration to such problems as these.

Then there is the ever-recurring question of the Dominion subsidies paid to the Provinces, and the complications resulting from the fact that some Provinces have control of their natural resources while others have not. As an outcome of the Duncan Report, the Maritime Provinces have been given a new financial arrangement temporarily. To this, the other Provinces have not raised any objection, but if a new and permanent arrangement is to be made in the interests of these Provinces, then all the Provinces have a vital interest in the matter.

Furthermore, it is now fairly well recognized that the financial terms originally fixed at the time of Confederation, and as altered from time to time, work out to the advantage of the Dominion and unfairly to the Provinces. That is to say, increased population brings largely increased revenues to the Dominion through Customs, Excise, and other forms of taxation, but to the Provinces increased population means enormously increased expenditures for education, roads, hospitals, court houses, and institutions of various kinds, while the small increase in the subsidies received from Ottawa because of such larger population is a mere bagatelle compared with such expenditures. Re-adjustment of the financial terms, therefore, becomes a necessity from time to time.

No one thing is more apt to weaken Confederation than the existence of a feeling that it is not working out quite fairly to the Provinces, or that, in regard to those matters which are subject to both Dominion and Provincial jurisdiction, Federal Departments are not displaying that spirit of helpful co-operation which is essential to complete efficiency in Provincial administration. On the other hand, real unity in effort, frank recognition and understanding of each other's problems, and sympathetic consideration and action will make the Dominion united and strong.

The people of Canada will entertain high hopes that the Ottawa Conference will be as successful in its field as the Imperial Conference was in the larger arena of Empire affairs.

Paddling 1,200 miles alone through the regions of Northwest Canada with only Indians, Hudson's Bay Company trappers, and herds of animals to punctuate the monotony, Cornelius Osgood, 25-year-old graduate student in Anthropology at the University of Chicago, spent the summer steeping himself in the lore of the North woods and learning to live the life of the Indians, preparing himself for a 14-month expedition next year into the Arctic Circle, to report on the culture of the little-known Athabasca Indians. Osgood has just returned to the university to continue his studies in ethnology.

Losses From Smut

Smut diseases cause heavy losses wherever cereal crops are grown. In Canada careful estimates of smut losses are available only for the last few years, and these show the average annual loss to the Canadian farmer from smut as over $1,500,000. Government departments, agricultural colleges, and technical agriculturists are all engaged in the effort to reduce this loss.

Antarctic Expedition

Expedition To Extreme Southern Seas Returns To England

After two years of scientific research in the extreme southern seas, Captain Robert F. Scott's old Antarctic ship, Discovery, returned to Falmouth, England, having suffered no casualties in the struggles with the ice fields.

The expedition gathered valuable information, especially about the life habits of whales. Dr. Stanley Kemp, the leading scientist aboard, told newspapermen that on the disputed marital habit of whales, they are not monogamous. On the contrary, he declared they have, so to speak, "a wife in every port."

Flight Will Be Hazardous

Commander Byrd's Trip To Antarctic
More Dangerous Than Any Yet Attempted

Commander Richard Byrd, who recently flew the Atlantic ocean with passengers, will undertake the most hazardous flight that has ever been made by an airman when he will attempt to reach the South Pole by aeroplane. He has already crossed the North Pole by air, but the task he has now set out to accomplish entails even greater dangers and difficulties. For instance, he may find himself obliged to winter in the Antarctic in the event of being caught in the ice. But if all goes well, and as now planned, the flight will have been accomplished and the intrepid voyagers on their way back to civilization early in 1928.

"If all goes well" . . . These words are often on the lips of Byrd and his companions just now, for well they know, from all the data to hand, that usually all does not go well on that vast but little explored waste, which has been so vividly named "The Home of the Blizzard."

The first aeroplane to fly across this unknown huge vastness of the earth's surface will be equipped with a powerful wireless and with kite-strings that will be flown high in the air to give greater power, so that in the event of a forced landing or other untoward event the fliers will be able at once to communicate with the companions left at the base camp at Ross Bay. They will have the means ready to effect Commander Byrd's rescue.

Diarrhoea Summer Complaint HE ALWAYS USES

Progress In Agricultural Methods Shown By The Adoption Of Labor-Saving Machinery

The outstanding trait of Western Canadian agriculture is its ceaseless progression. Western Canadian farmers never stand still but are constantly featuring new developments. The diversity of crops extends; methods of operation are steadily being improved. In particular, the advance in the adoption of mechanical devices and the general utilization of machines to facilitate farming operations and reduce manual effort has been striking. Today, the profession of farming in Western Canada demands not so much physical strength as a practical administrative sense and a working mechanical knowledge. Manual labor requirements are steadily being reduced to a minimum and the Western Canadian farmer is becoming more and more the operator of a machine.

According to report from intelligent observers in Western Canada, the spring revealed two very marked trends in the agricultural industry of that territory, one being, the greater powerizing of the large dry land farms and the other a marked increase in the favor and probable utilization of the combined harrow-thresher. Dealers in the territory report an unprecedented demand for the light farm tractor and a tremendous increase in orders for combines. Tractors have been steadily delivered at farms as they were received from the factory, while, according to one estimate, the number of combines used in Alberta and Saskatchewan this fall would be close to one thousand machines as compared with 175 in use last year.

Though combines were tried out in Western Canada as early as 1922, the year 1926 saw the first general practical test of the reaper-thresher in the territory, and the voluminous demand for the machines this year would augur a wide acceptance as to their practicability in the area, which leads authorities to anticipate something of a repetition of Kansas history in this respect. The general adoption of this machine would probably be the most rewarding factor ever introduced into Canadian agriculture. Briefly, it eliminates the operations of bundling, tying, and stacking, and threshes the grain as it goes along. Its possible effect may be judged from the fact that at harvest time the Canadian West finds it necessary to import about 50,000 additional workers, and the number naturally rises with the increase in cultivation.

As one of the world's leading agricultural countries, Canadian methods are extensively adopted as the product of implement manufacturing industry finds its way into nearly every farming country of the globe. This business may be expected to extend to the reaper-thresher in certain directions and further swell a growing trade. The value of farm implements exported from Canada in the last fiscal year reached $17,412,947, as compared with $13,628,341 in the previous year, $11,342,712 in 1924-25, and $8,578,702 in 1920.

Could Use X-Ray

When police at Birmingham, Ala. descended upon a group of negroes closely grouped around a blanket upon which lay many bills, they thought they were breaking up a dice game. But there were no dice. They searched the men and the room, but found nothing with which gambling might be done. The cases were thrown out of court when the defence attorney demanded that the dice be produced. Afterward a grinning negro approached the lawyer and said: "Boss, I swallowed them dice. We always gets little ones that's easy to swallow."

The Boss: "Is it true that you leave your typewriter and go when the clock strikes five, even if you are in the middle of a word?"

The Steno: "Certainly not! When it gets as near five as that I never begin a word at all."

Profit In Sheep

Sheep Raising As A Side Line On The Prairies

Although the farmers of the prairie provinces will probably continue indefinitely to depend upon grain growing as their main source of revenue there are several lines of work which fit in admirably with grain growing, and provide an extra source of revenue. One of the best of these sidelines for the prairie, according to E. Van Nieu of the Scott, Saskatchewan, Experimental Station, is sheep raising. Many farmers are realizing this and the number of sheep in the three provinces is increasing. They prove particularly helpful to the income when the main crop is found wanting on account of seasonal conditions. The two sources of revenue from sheep, namely, wool and lambs make the proposition doubly attractive.

Sheep are useful as a channel for marketing low grade whole grain and for cleaning stubble fields. They appreciate a varied ration, however, and in districts where alfalfa or clover hay is plentiful these should be used as roughage for the breeding stock in conjunction with straw, but good results have been attained at Scott when oat straw was the only roughage fed. Probably the most satisfactory method of getting a start with sheep is to purchase a few grade ewes and use pure-bred rams. If the farmer has had no experience with sheep he should start with a small number.

Developing New Grain

"Mystery Wheat" Ripens Fortnight Earlier and Yields Equal Marquis

In his first statement on his "mystery wheat" which he is developing on his farm near Wembley, Alberta, Herman Treile, world wheat and oats king, reveals the new grain is being especially developed for harvesting by combines.

These are features of mystery wheat: The straw stands stiff even under light snow; the head does not shatter; it retains the kernels in a fast grip, even under adverse weather conditions.

The grain ripens a fortnight earlier, enabling it to stand in the field until late ripe, without damage from frost, thus providing ideal grain for simultaneous cutting and threshing. The yield and quality equals that of the Marquis variety.

Treile is still developing the new wheat but hopes by the end of next season to have it accepted officially so that farmers all over the West may start growing it.

Progressive Canadian Eskimos

Rapidly Adopting the Ways Of Civilized Life

Canadian Eskimos are progressive people. The more advanced have, in their homes, sewing machines, gramophones and radio outfits. In the Mackenzie delta, and along the Arctic coast the ambition of the head of the family is to own a schooner fitted with an auxiliary, gasoline engine, and the high price of Arctic fur has enabled a good many to attain this objective. At Aklatik, a trading village, mission station, and police post on one of the islands of the delta, as many as twenty-five of these schooners, all owned by natives are frequently to be seen at one time.

Prairie Provinces Are Making More Butter

Account For About Thirty Per Cent. Of Canada's Output

Every one of the provinces records an increase in butter production last year, Manitoba having the largest proportionate increase. A striking feature of the survey, in fact, is the position in butter production which the Prairie Provinces have come to occupy. These provinces, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba, which a comparatively short while ago did not provide enough for their own requirements, now rank third, fourth and fifth respectively, and together account for nearly 30 per cent. of the Dominion butter output.

Few Fields Left To Conquer As Out-of-the-Way Parts Of The Earth Are Mapped By Explorers

English Is Common

Speech Of Millions

Taught To School Children Of Almost Every Civilized Country

At a recent meeting of the Royal Society of Literature, attended by prominent literary men of Great Britain and the United States, the use and misuse of certain English words and national differences of pronunciation were discussed. One outcome was the decision to take steps to form an "International Council for English." This council would consist of fifty British members and fifty members from the United States. It would investigate disputed usages of words and study "Americanisms and Anglicisms."

The proposal that an international council for English be formed directs attention once again to the spread of the use of that tongue throughout the world. The various dialects of Chinese are spoken, indeed, by more people than is English. On the other hand the written language of the Chinese is so difficult to master that learned men in that country have been striving to simplify it. Spanish is the tongue of an increasing population in South American states. Russian is the language of about 150,000,000 people. English has been carried by settlers to North America, Australasia and Africa. It has long been the language of a world-wide commerce. In 1801, according to a British statistician English was spoken by only twenty-one millions of people. By 1980 it was the native tongue of one hundred and eleven millions. Today it is the common speech of one hundred and seventy millions. It will be spoken by more and more people as the populations of the British Empire and of the United States increase. Furthermore it is being taught to children in the schools of almost every civilized country in the world. It is growing more an more into use as an international language.

Watch 100 Years Old

Miss Cynthia A. Pinter, White Lake, N.Y., has had her grandfather's watch wound for the first time in 100 years. The watch, which was made in London in 1771, belonged to Peter Pinter, and becoming out of order, remained unused for the century. Miss Pinter had it put in good condition and deposited it in a bank.

Only three-quarters of a century ago large tracts of the earth were completely unknown, the whole interior of the African continent was a blank on the map and in the opinion of many, probably, a prolongation of the sandy waste of the Sahara. Both Polar regions were unvisited, little or nothing had been ascertained regarding the regions of equatorial South America and the central parts of Asia and Australia. Yet in 1912 geographical authorities were able to say that the unknown no longer existed and that the world had attained almost complete self-consciousness. That qualifying word almost doubtless applied to the yet unvisited portions of the Polar regions and of the interior of Brazil. Beginning with the first great exploratory journey of David Livingstone in 1855-56, continual threads on the unknown have reduced the blank areas on the map, until few fields are left for the adventures to conquer.

Of all that remains, the most provocative challenge comes from the huge continent that surrounds the South Pole, with an area only a little less than that of the United States. Rising to an elevation of two miles above the sea with "barrier bulwarks" of precipitous ice cliffs, and seaward more "guardian packs" of floating ice, the South Polar continent long offered almost insuperable obstacles to explorers in ship or by land. To surmount them by aeroplane is easy, but then comes dangers of another kind. The Antarctic has been called by one explorer, who spoke out of the fulness of personal experience, "a Jotunheim," "the home of the blizzard," where the temperature falls to 50 degrees below zero. These blizzards exacted their toll of death when Captain Robert E. Scott and the other three survivors of his unsuccessful Polar expedition perished in March, 1912, from exposure and starvation.

Commander Byrd's proposed flight to the South Pole and back, now planned for the southern summer of next year, will be the most difficult and perilous of all Polar ventures, even more so than those undertaken in quest of that more alluring goal of the centuries, the North Pole. But the greater the hardship and peril of the quest, the stronger is the appeal to men of adventurous temper, and the urge will remain till it is satisfied. In the case of the Antarctic, the lure is heightened by the report of huge mineral possibilities. This will ultimately attract the prospector, as it has done in the Arctic. In the meantime, the Antarctic holds the attraction always attaching to mystery.

English Insects Recruited

New Zealand Has Appealed For Aid To Combat Weed Menace

An expeditionary force of insects will be sent soon from England to New Zealand. The Dominion has appealed for aid against the gooseberry and blackberry brambles and ragwort weed which has spread too rapidly. At the experimental station at Harpenden, Herefordshire, armies of English beetles and caterpillars are undergoing elimination tests to determine which bugs have the most voracious appetite for weeds and do not include vegetables and fruits in their diet.

When the insect "shock troops" are picked they will be rushed to New Zealand and turned loose against the farmers' enemies.

Wintering Steers Loose In Pens

To determine the relative merits of housing steers for winter feeding loose in large pens or tied in the stable a test has been conducted during the last three years at the Lennoxville, Quebec, Experimental Station. The results of the test show quite conclusively that larger gains can be obtained at a cheaper cost by feeding the steers loose in pens. Especially when the cost of labor and equipment is taken into consideration there is a marked advantage in wintering steers in this way.

American Legionnaires To France

Sixty members of the "Boys of '76" and Drum Corps of Post 76, Racine, Wisconsin, part of the American Legion, who sailed from Quebec recently to attend the national convention in Paris. Attired in white uniforms and steel helmets, and accompanied by brilliantly garbed drum majors, they presented a very handsome spectacle as they assembled to embark on the Canadian Pacific steamship Montroyal for Antwerp. This corps is a part of what was considered the most stupendous transatlantic peace-time movement in history since the first sailings of the Canadian Pacific steamers for this purpose began August 25. The Legionnaires were welcomed for the convention September 13-24, by Premier Poincare, President of the Republic, and many prominent political and military leaders in France. Among outstanding Americans to sail were General John Pershing, who accompanied the American Expeditionary Force to France, and U.S. Ambassador Myron T. Herrick. It is estimated that well over 17,000 Legionnaires sailed from America to attend the convention.

RURAL ROADS ARE PLANNED TO AVOID ACCIDENTS

Niagara Falls, Ont.—Delegates who attended the annual convention of the Canadian Good Roads Association meeting here apparently became imbued with the "safety first" idea for continually throughout the discussions the speakers veered from their original topic to safety-first suggestions.

H. R. Mackenzie, chief field engineer for Saskatchewan, stated that his province was planning its rural roads with the aim of making them "safety first" roads. He stated that the roads were being constructed 24 feet wide, and with ditches at such a gradual slant that an automobile could run into them at a fair speed and still fall to turn turtle or fall on its side.

The annual meeting of the association, held apart from the convention, did not pass without its recognition of the accident situation. Several resolutions being adopted supporting the "safety first" campaign.

In touching upon the question of federal aid, the prelude to a resolution pointed out that the Dominion Government had collected upwards of $10,000,000 in the past ten years which could be traced directly or indirectly to highways. In view of this, the association instructed its executive committee to make every reasonable effort to induce the Federal Government to grant financial assistance to the building of good roads.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Hon. P. C. Black, minister of highways, Nova Scotia; first vice-president, Hon. O. L. McPherson, minister of highways, Alberta; second vice-president, Hon. W. H. Sutherland, minister of public works, British Columbia; secretary-treasurer, George A. McNamee, Montreal.

Huge Project Would Provide Subway Lines and Abolish Level Crossings

Montreal.—Initial steps have been taken. It was officially announced, by a group of local interests connected with financial houses in New York to enter into a $200,000,000 project with the city, province, Federal Government and railway companies to abolish level crossings in Montreal, construct a grand central terminal station and construct underground tram facilities.

The work in view comprises, it was stated, the abolition of all level crossings in and entering the city either by overpassing or putting them underground. The proposition which it is stated is being made to civil, provincial and Federal Governments, beside the railway heads, would provide for collaboration of all these bodies in the financial arrangements.

Completes Long Trip

British Aviator Makes Record For Long Distance Solo Flight
Capetown, South Africa.—Lieut. H. H. Bentley, instructor for the South Africa air force, who left London, England, on September 1, in a light moth airplane for Capetown, completed his long solo flight of more than 7,000 miles.

Lieut. Bentley, who made the trip in long hops to prove the feasibility of London-Capetown air communication, and to demonstrate the capabilities of a light plane on long distance flights, created what was said here to be world's record for a long distance solo flight.

The aviator, who had hoped to make the trip in 10 days, found 23 necessary for the long trip, some of it over hazardous and deserted country.

Will Endorse Proposal

Toronto.—Toronto women and probably Ontario women generally will support British Columbia's proposal to make women eligible to the Senate of Canada, when the proposal is discussed at the meeting of the National Council of Women at Stratford. The Toronto local has strongly endorsed a similar resolution.

Gypsy Children Ask For Separate School

Pupils in Czech-Slovakia Fear Those of Other Tribes
Prague.—School children in the town of Homonna, Czech-Slovakia, have struck for separate schools, because of their instinctive fear that the gypsy juvenile nomads beside whom they sit have cannibalistic instincts.

Striking children have been strongly supported by their parents, who declare their children are in danger of being eaten. Seeing the force of their arguments, the authorities have decided to build a separate school for Gypsy children, which, it is believed, would be the only one of its kind in the world.

The present protest grew from alleged cannibalistic crimes for which 36 gypsies are now awaiting trial. They are said to have confessed to murdering and devouring scores of persons, pleading the times were bad and they were forced to eat their only meat, but that they did not see anything wrong in eating human flesh.

Aviators Safe After Long Desert Flight

German Plane Delayed By Detour Ordered By Turks

Bagdad, Iraq.—Lieut. Otto Koonnecke, pilot of the Germania, whose arrival here cleared up the mystery of his whereabouts since his take-off from Angora, Turkey, said that his delay in reaching this place had been due chiefly to the instructions given him by the Turkish authorities on leaving Angora as the route to be followed.

The German aviator, who is en route to the U.S. by way of the Orient, said that the instructions involved a wide detour, the Turkish idea being apparently to prevent foreign aviators from flying over certain areas of Turkish territory.

The aviator said that he had landed at Aleppo and then had deferred his departure for Bagdad in order to avoid flying in the hottest part of the day.

Eugene Chen Married

Reported Marriage In Moscow Of Former Nationalist Foreign Minister Of China

London.—The God of Love seems once more to have won out over the God of War in the Chinese Nationalist movement.

The Riga correspondent of the Daily Mail quotes an official Soviet despatch to the effect that Eugene Chen, former Nationalist Foreign Minister, and Mme. Sun Yat-sen, widow of the father of the Nationalist movement, were married in Moscow.

The newspaper reports the couple intend to spend their honeymoon in China by starting a new revolution, and adds that the Third Communist International is financing the activities of the bridal couple.

C.P.R. Earnings

Montreal.—The gross earnings of the Canadian Pacific Railway for August were $17,255,624, an increase of $528,449 over the gross earnings during the same month in 1926. The working expenses for the corresponding period, however, showed an increase of $1,071,587, representing a decrease of $14,822 in the net profits compared with August 1926. Net profits for August 1927 were $2,362,148, 11.

Paralysis In Sweden

Stockholm.—The infantile paralysis outbreak reported in various parts of Europe has reached Sweden, cases being reported from two provincial districts. At Marma, a military training field north of Stockholm, a young cadet died from the disease, and in the neighborhood of Geroberg, west of the capital, several children are ill, but none fatally thus far.

New Rule On Alfalfa Seed

Ottawa.—Regulation under the Seeds Act have been promulgated to prohibit the importation into Canada of alfalfa seed or any mixture of alfalfa seed, unless ten per cent. of the seed in each container is sown red. This action has been taken to discourage the importation of Southern grown alfalfa.

May Not Attend Parley

Uncertain Whether Premier King Will Go To Continental Congress

Ottawa.—Considerable uncertainty exists as to the likelihood of Premier W. L. Mackenzie King accepting an invitation to attend the continental congress of the sitting of the Continental Congress in York, Pa.

While the prime minister, is at present out of the city, it is intimated that on his return he will be busily engaged in preparations for the conference of provincial premiers to be held here early in November. No decision has yet been reached by Hon. William Phillips, United States Minister to Canada, as to whether he will attend the continental.

Adopt Novel Method

May Use Gramophone To Teach English In Quebec Schools

Quebec, Que.—Utilization of the gramophone as a new practical method of teaching the English language in schools of the province of Quebec is the recommendation that will be placed before the Catholic committee of the council of public instruction by a sub-committee appointed to consider the question.

This new method has been approved recently by several school commissions and after a demonstration given before the members of the sub-committee it was adopted unanimously.

Preparing Customs Report

Ottawa.—Three more weeks will be required to complete the report which the Royal Commission on Customs will present to the Governor-General. The three commissioners are hard at work on the report, which will, it is expected, be voluminous.

Doctor Made Indian Chief

Another Englishman has left Canada bearing with him the highest title of one of the famous Indian tribes of the Western plains. The title of "Chief Bear Head" was conferred upon Dr. Edward Brown, of the Faculty of World, London, England, by Chief Running Antelope of the Blackfoot tribe. The ceremony took place on the Burns Ranch near Calgary, recently, during the Canadian Pacific Western tour of the World Political Congress. Delegates of which party Dr. Brown was an outstanding member. The photograph shows Dr. Brown shaking hands with Chief Running Antelope after he was accepted as a member of the Blackfoot tribe.

Have Reached Agreement

Railways Likely To Allow Hon. Robert Forke To Control Foreign Immigration

Ottawa.—Negotiations recently initiated by Hon. Robert Forke, Minister of Immigration, looking to a settlement of the issue of foreigners to Canada, if and when this is necessary, are achieving their object, it was stated here.

Recently in Montreal, Mr. Forke conferred with President Beatty of the Canadian Pacific Railway in regard to the existing agreement between the department and the railways respecting continental immigration. The Minister had a conference on the same subject with Mr. Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National.

"I think we are now in agreement," stated Mr. Forke after seeing the C.N.R. He indicated that while the arrangement with the railways is not being re-drafted, the new provision, or undertaking is, that the Minister will have the absolute say as to when, in his judgment, the influx of foreigners shall be stopped or curtailed. "Meanwhile," said Mr. Forke, "I think that what has occurred will serve as a warning sufficient to avoid the necessity of any arbitrary action."

Would Make Britain Dry

Evangeline Booth Convinced That Prohibition Is Possible in England

London.—Commander Evangeline Booth of the Salvation Army, to whom a welcoming reception was given in his London hall, is convinced that prohibition is a big possibility for England.

"If I were over here and had the help of Lady Astor, we could bring prohibition into England in no time," she is quoted as saying in an interview.

The Commander, who is making her first visit here since 1920, talked strongly on the benefits which she feels prohibition had brought to the United States. "I would say to every country, if you want to be rich, temperance prohibition and banish drunkenness and inefficiency."

Progress Is Satisfactory

Minister Of Railways Pleased With Work On Bay Line

Calgary.—Hon. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Railways, expressed his satisfaction with the progress of the work on the Hudson Bay Railway in the course of an interview here. The minister stated it was now in operation as far as mile 350 and the bridge over the Limestone River at that point had been completed.

"I expect within the next few weeks the Canadian National will let the contract for the last section of the railway to Churchill," he said.

In reply to a question as to the prospects of Port Colborne and the length of the shipping season, Mr. Dunning said they must await Mr. Palmer's final report.

WANT CANADIAN CO-OPERATION ON WATERWAY PLAN

Washington.—Co-operation of Premier Mackenzie King's Government of Canada with the United States for the protection of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway was predicted by W. L. Harding, president of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater Association, after a call upon President Coolidge. He said he had "heard rumors" that the premier intended to head a commission to seek an agreement with the United States and he believed these to be true.

Harding also declared that he saw no prospect of a loss greater than 5,000,000 bushels of grain to the United States Great Lakes ships as a result of the fixing of an eleven cent per bushel rate by the Canadian Railway, on grain from Winnipeg to Quebec.

Harding, a former governor of Iowa, said that he saw some lagging in the sentiment for Frank O. Lowden, for President, in his state and that intense segregation sections, particularly the eastern grain part, Secretary Hoover seemed to be gaining ground for the Republican nomination.

Harding believed that the vote of Mr. Lowden-Haugen for relief but would not play as important a part in Iowa presidential politics as has been generally predicted.

Russia Planning To Buy Montana Horses

Increases Price In Western Canada Too High Is Report

Quebec.—Canada's second consignment of horses to Soviet Russia is now on the high seas, the Russian steamer Dakabir having left Quebec with 1,199 animals for Leningrad.

Captain Smirnov, in charge of the ship, said before leaving that Russia is looking towards the state of Montana to supply her with horses, due to the action of Western Canadian farmers in raising the price of their animals to $35 each. Montana and other states are willing to supply the horses at $12 per head, he said.

The Dakabir will be back here early in November for her third and last trip of the season.

Names Are Perpetuated

Nungesser and Colli Linked Forever In Canadian Place Names

Ottawa.—Nungesser and Colli, who sought to fly the Atlantic and failed, will live forever in the place names of Canada. The topographical survey department of the interior has issued a new map of the new road building areas in the vicinity of Wawan, Narrows and Birch Lakes in northwestern Ontario. On the map, the names Nungesser and Colli are given to a lake and to the river flowing from it into Little Vermilion. The name of Colli, too has been given to a lake.

As Nungesser and Colli were linked in death by Lake Mead, now Colli are linked by the highway of river and stream.

British Post Mail

Washington.—Within four years mail from New York will be delivered in London in three days by airplanes, and aeroplanes, second Assistant Postmaster-General Gough, who has returned from the international mail service conference at Paris, predicted. He said the conference's decision of a trans-Atlantic mail route assurance of this service.

Expenditure For Indian Schools

Ottawa.—The amount expended by the Government of Canada on Indian education in the fiscal year 1926 was $1,918,000. In addition to this expenditure of funds of Indians, whose funds were sufficient to meet the expenditure contributed $47,000 for school purposes.

Warsaw, Poland

Handsome Canadian Pacific Exhibits

(1) The Railway Building at the Toronto Exhibition. (2) Illustrated data indicating the growth of the C.P.R. (3) A portion of the Canadian Pacific Exhibit.

Throwing the spotlight on all its renowned activities, the Canadian Pacific Railway has again achieved success in its exhibit this year at the annual exhibition at Toronto. It is a busy spot for the visitor; for both the artist and the seeker after instruction and education finds in this display a wealth of beauty and learning. Running from the cutting down to a depth of about four feet was a circular panorama of the Dominion stretching from the Atlantic to the Pacific Coast. This frieze was designed by James Crochard of Montreal and executed by four other Canadian artists. In lovely colors it gave an actual picture of the country through which the journey is made. At the base of this panorama the famous all-steel miniature Trans-Canada made its run. Spread out as on a stage was a large model of the St. Lawrence River with the Atlantic Express steamships and smaller vessels collecting and leaving the docks. In the foreground were prosperous looking farms, and across the river the city of Quebec with its winding streets and the towering Chateau Frontenac formed an absorbing picture. To link the East with the West

there was produced a working model showing the Devil Springs Hotel in its fairy-like surroundings. Here were seen the Canadian Rockies and the Bow River Valley in holiday mood. This beautiful castle of comfort in the heart of the mountains promotes the urge to see more of the country we live in. Tiny automobiles tour the winding paths, trail riders start off with their sleek horses for snow-capped peaks, and the Stony Indian with his squaw seated outside their tepees helped to make the setting realistic. The Company's latest achievement in hotel construction was displayed in a model of the Hotel Saskatchewan, Regina. Covered wagons in the foreground told the story of man's advancement since the days when wagons were the only means of crossing the prairies. Special prominence was given to the new Canadian Pacific Hotel to be erected at Toronto. "The Royal York," which when completed will be the largest hotel building in the British Empire. Much interest is being displayed by the public in the new structure which will rise 22 stories above the street level and will be located directly across from the new Union station. Other exhibits showed models of the Algonquin, Place Vase and Vancouver Hotels.

The Lands of Enchantment and Mystery discovered on the World Cruises were grouped in one colorful setting, with the hint of a cruiser gliding through the waters. All these scenes were reproduced so as to give an illusionary perspective, and lighted with such changing effects as the dawn of day, the sunny noon, the deepening dusk and darkness. Indicating the immense growth of the Canadian Pacific Express was a data on which was constructed a reproduction of the Company's present headquarters compared with a model of the original Express building in Winnipeg dated 1883. In addition there was a wonderful collection of revolving transparencies in natural colors, also rows of these were placed about the exhibit. Each transparency clearly told its individual story. In the centre of the building was a pillar around which a life-sized figure of a native of northern countries in characteristic costume.

Here and There

The late John Oliver, who came from England and commenced his Canadian career as a farm worker and later rose to be governor of the British Columbia, left an estate valued at $78,912.

The idea that the Scot will not spend money was dispelled this month so far as travel is concerned by the thousands of dancemen who came a hundred miles or more by train or motor to attend the Highland Gathering at Banff, Alberta, held in September.

A shipment of antelope from Canada to the United States is shortly to be made. Charles Blaser, rancher, at Lake Howell, who has for years interested himself in the preservation of these animals, has contracted to deliver twenty-two head to a Texas banker.

It has been announced that the representatives of the Cuban potato buyers have agreed to take nine hundred thousand bushels of New Brunswick potatoes this season. Negotiations are at present under way with the Cuban buyers for the sale of the Nova Scotia potato crop.

Increasing interest has been shown in the organization of boys' and girls' swine clubs throughout the province of Alberta, and swine clubs have been formed, among other places, at Pincher Creek, Macleod and Raymond. To members of the Alberta Canadian Pacific Railway awards a trip to the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto.

The 4,000 sportsmen who made returns to the Saskatchewan provincial gamekeepers reported last year secured a total bag of 100,000 ducks, 25,000 prairie chickens, 6,000 ruffed grouse, and 1,200 geese. In order to obtain some idea of the approximate bag of all hunters it is to be assumed that 15,000 who did not make returns secured the same average bags.

An unfailing indication of farm prosperity is the increasing sale of agricultural implements reported by nearly all dealers in the west this year. The demand for harrow machinery has been especially heavy, while the sale of threshers, binders, combines and tractors has been exceptionally large, some firms reporting from 100 to 200 per cent. increase in the sales of these implements.

When the Canadian Pacific Railway train bearing 128 delegates to the Canadian Chamber of Commerce convention arrived at Craigville, B.C., recently, Premier E. G. Hardy requested that a brief stop be made during which the delegates paid tribute to the spot where the last spike of the Canadian Pacific transcontinental line was driven linking for the first time the East to the West. Mr. Hardy spoke briefly of the courage and vision of the builders of the railroad.

Alberta's potential coal wealth is greater than all the known coal deposits in the rest of the British Empire put together, according to Sir Thomas Holland, chairman of the Empire Mining and Metallurgical Council, recently at Calgary. "If the present endeavors to change coal into a fluid fuel, capable of displacing petroleum and all its products, are successful, Canada will take the place of the United States as the world's producer of liquid fuel," he further stated.

PAINTED FIRES

BY NELLIE L. McCLUNG

Mr. Wynmuth who backed up his wife's petitions by hollow groans and exclamations of "Lorri, save!" and "God, have mercy!" was called to the telephone just at the moment that she was warning up to the real business of her report.

"O Lord, send down Thy chastening fire to convict and convert!" "Amen! Hallelujah!" shouted the girls, knowing what was expected of them.

Helmi, who was kneeling just behind Mrs. Wynmuth, caught a glimpse of keys in the pocket of her black satin apron. A sudden impulse prompting her, she cautiously abstracted the keys and crept quietly backward from the room. In the general excitement of the evening devotions she was not missed.

Helmi went alone to the retreat, found the key which fitted, and then to the desk. She had been trusted to sweep and dust this hallowed spot, and so knew that one sacred drawer was always kept locked. It yielded to the right key, disclosing a pile of letters. Helmi found there for herself and one for Minnie. She hurriedly replaced the others, shoved her own and Minnie's into the front of her dress, and made the perilous journey down the long hall. If she had only told Minnie to keep on praying. Her knees seemed to suck at the linoleum; her knees cracked, the house seemed to scream with silence. Mr. Wynmuth was still at the phone. She reached the door. They were still on their knees, Mrs. Wynmuth, keeping up her supplications to the throne of grace. Some of the girls were crying. Helmi was on her knees in a moment beside them, and into her grateful heart, there came an honest gift of thanksgiving. Mrs. Wynmuth, hearing it, redoubled her efforts—she would get Helmi, yet.

"Oh Lord, give us souls for our hire—unlock the stubborn door—break down the bars of silence!"

DRAGGING-DOWN PAINS RELIEVED

Woman Suffered Nearly a Year. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Brought Her Health.

Moore Jaw, Sask.—"I am going to try to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered very badly with dragging-down pains and inflammation, also pains in my right side over my hip and down my whole side into my leg. I had it nearly a year when I went to a doctor and he said I would have to have an operation. But my mother said to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as it was better, so I kept on taking it and I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I have had two more children since then and am perfectly well. I used to have to lie down two or three times a day, and now I do all my housework without trouble. It always keeps the Vegetable Compound in the house as I find a dose now and then helps me. I am writing for you to use this letter any way you see fit and I will answer letters. If I can help any other woman I'd be only too glad to try."—Mrs. ESTHER HOUGHTON, 414 Morris Square, Moore Jaw, Saskatchewan.

Lord, we are waiting, waiting, waiting. Helmi swayed nearer to her and gently replaced the keys in Mrs. Wynmuth's pocket, falling back on her knees in a rapture of thanksgiving and relief. And in the general responsive outcries of the girls Helmi, too, joined. But the words of her song were the words of one of the yells of the

"Merry Maids!" "Skin a mink ink! Skin a mink ink! I love you!"

Fortunately for Helmi, Mrs. Wynmuth attributed her strange words to her foreign birth, and in her joy at Helmi's apparent surrender she did not inquire closely into the matter. Helmi's silence was broken! Now for the full confession—the stubborn will had yielded at last.

The other girls were sent into the common room, where they began their dreary task of making baby clothes in shamed silence. Although the Wynmuths had been at the home only a short time they had killed every spark of happiness in it. Mrs. Avery had imbued the girls with a certain gale and enthusiasm over their sewing which had lifted it out of all sadness. A baby was to her a gift; it must be made well, comely and baby clothes must be beautiful. The girls loved the two hours after supper when the little garments were fashioned. Indeed, the beautiful things that Mrs. Avery had planned and the girls had made were used against her by members of the Board, who claimed that she encouraged the girls to forget that they were sinners, and had them actually looking forward to the coming of their babies, thus making that they were children of shame.

The Wynmuths let the girls forget nothing, and on this night they were silent and sad, as bitterly cast down and ashamed, as any Christian Board could wish.

For an hour Mr. and Mrs. Wynmuth struggled with Helmi. They prayed, coaxed, threatened. She must tell Mr. Wynmuth at last shook her roughly—he had often said this was the best way to deal with foreigners. They had to be mastered.

Something broke in Helmi then. The nervous excitement of the evening—her three precious letters that she had not yet opened—her anxiety for Minnie, and eagerness to know what her letter contained of good or evil—something broke in Helmi's heart with sudden fury. It was that flashing temper for which her countrymen are noted. One moment she had been perfectly calm, light-tipped, composed, mistress of herself, determined to bear all things; the next moment she was a flaming fury, with murder in her eyes. She lurched Mrs. Wynmuth from her with a swinging blow that sent him crashing into the china cabinet, and the words she said were words she had not known that she knew. In the hotel in Saint Paul she had heard the cook say them to a persistent peddler at the door.

"You go to Hell!"

Mrs. Wynmuth screamed in genuine honest fright.

CHAPTER IX

"Girls! Oh, girls!"

Mrs. Wynmuth's voice was fraught with terror and brought the girls from the common room in a panic.

"Oh, you wicked, wicked girl, Helmi! You have killed the best man the sun ever shone on! He is bleeding to death, his life oozing away!" Her voice, which always had a rusty whine, now fairly croaked.

The glass in the door of the cabinet had given Mr. Wynmuth a cut in the cheek, and the blood ran over his pale face. Helmi, wide-eyed and rigid, stood as if rooted to the floor.

"Murder! murder! murder!" Mrs. Wynmuth's voice was rumbling now like distant thunder. "Oh, speak to me, Mr. Wynmuth!" Even in her excitement she remembered that it would not do to call him by his first name before the girls—in life or in death, discipline must be preserved. "Speak, oh speak, pale lips!"

The pale lips spoke. Mr. Wynmuth's thin veneer had been cracked by Helmi's blow. "Shut up, you fool, and get me something to wipe off the blood," he said.

"Dig graves," cried his wife dragoon. "Go, girls, go! When he wakes—if he ever does wake in this life—he must see no face but mine bending over him. Go!"

The girls drifted noiselessly up the stairs, deeply aware of what had happened. Helmi suddenly remembered the letters she had concealed, and ran upstairs to find Minnie, who had gone to bed early. When Helmi reached the dormitory she found herself the centre of a storm of protest. "Gosh, I'm glad you patted him," cried one. "Helmi, ain't you the best girl," said another.

"Serve him right, the big bum," was Rose Lamb's contribution. "I wish I had you now, Helmi. He whopped me for half last week, and I was afraid to hit back. But Gosh! he hadn't a look in with our husky Helmi!"

Minnie had awakened with the noise and was sitting up in bed very pale and frightened, when the girls swarmed into the room. Helmi put the letter in her hand.

The first flush of congratulations gave place to dismal forebodings. "Gosh, Helmi, I'm afraid it was you and not me that whopped him. I'm scared they'll half kill you," this was from Maude, a repeater who seldom spoke.

"It's the Board I am scared of. There's a whole room full of them, and we get it every Sunday. I'm scared to come, and they ask the questions about are we happy, and we say 'We are very happy' and will try and repay all the kindness you have shown us."

"That's not a Board," said a young girl who had been right in because she and her stepmother, could not agree; "Board is what you pay when you eat."

"Shut up, silly! Maude's right. Ain't she been here twice? I guess she would know. I've scared they'll kill Helmi, maybe, or do something bad—expel her, maybe."

"That ain't the worst," Rose Lamb led the dissonant now. "You can't get expelled from this place. I guess it says so in the rules. I've been here a year. This is a jail, really, only it's a jail where they're going to convert you or bust. It's best to get converted first of time. I've been converted lots of times; every time I run away I get converted all over again. Gosh! I'm getting fed up with these Wynmuths! Ain't this a swell time we're having tonight! I'm all for Helmi, she's as good as a show." Rose began to sing.

Local Possibilities

Home Neighborhood Usually Offers Better Chances Than Elsewhere

Many folks will start off to some far distant city or state to seek their fortune, and they will find equally good or better chances in the home neighborhood. The chance to make good in one's home location is usually better, since people understand local conditions more thoroughly. They also have friends in their home locality who will be of assistance in developing any kind of business. There are opportunities for business everywhere and they are just as good as elsewhere. The people who render the most service and who advertise what they can do will always attract attention and go ahead.

Man's "First Alphabet" Denounced As Fake

French Experts Find "Glossy Writings" Are Not Authentic
At a meeting in Paris of the Academy of Inscription the "Glossy Writings" discovered three years ago and believed to be man's "first alphabet" were denounced as fakes. The denunciation was made by Camille Julian, an authority on the Gallo-Roman era, and Rene Dussaud, the academicien appointed to make a special investigation.

The famous writings, which were brought to light at Glozel, near Vichy, were declared by the finders to be the work of Neolithic man, thus presenting the contention that the writing originated hundreds of centuries before the period generally accepted by scientists.

For some time the authenticity of the inscription was not questioned. There was merely disagreement as to its age. M.M. Julian and Dussaud now declare they found many good reasons to suspect the "discoveries," citing as examples the objects had been recently disturbed, the lack of human bones, pictures of reindeer, which did not exist in France, and finally that a fee of four francs was being charged for admission to the property where the "find" was made.

Fares Change With Weather

Trans-Atlantic Passenger Rates To Be Lowered During Dull Season
Trans-Atlantic passenger fares in the future will change with the seasons.

Cheaper rates for steamship passage are to prevail during the fall and spring as well as winter. This action of steamship officials has been taken to stimulate business in what are known as the off-seasons.

By the new arrangement, agreed to by all the principal trans-Atlantic companies, there will be three different tariffs, one for summer when travel is at its height, one for the intermediate seasons, the late fall and early spring, and another for mid-winter when travel is lightest.

The reductions on the more luxurious liners, such as the Majestic, Berengaria and Leviathan. In some instances amount to ten to fifteen per cent from the summer tariff.

Little Helps For This Week

The fruit of the Spirit is love, joy—Galatians v. 22.

So take joy home, and make a place in thy great heart for her, And give her time to grow, and cherish her. Then will she come, and oft will say to thee: When thou art working in the furrows—say, Or reading in the sacred hour of dawn.

It is a comely fashion to be glad, Joy is the grace say to God. —Jean Ingelow.

All God-like things are joys, they have touched God, and so they carry with them an irresistible gladness everywhere.—Frederick W. Faber.

Angora Rabbit Farms

Reports state that Angora rabbit farming is being carried on to a very large extent by the people of France. Many thousands of Angora rabbit farms are in operation throughout the country and these depend largely on the revenues from the wool taken from the Angora rabbit which brings as much as $8 a pound for the best grade. In one year, Angora rabbit wool produced in France amounted to $150,000.

The tourists were being shown the Acropolis at Athens, when one of them, after an enthusiastic "Gosh, I'll say it's great!" appeared to miss something. "Say," she said, "where are the four horsemen, anyway?"

Educating Indian Citizens

THIN, WATERY BLOOD ALWAYS DANGEROUS

If Not Corrected Serious Results Sure To Follow

In no trouble is delay or neglect more dangerous than in anemia—this, watery blood. It is very common in young girls and in persons who are overworked or confined within doors. It makes the expenditure in so-called a manner that it is often well developed before the trouble is recognized. But taken in time the toxic treatment through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, so enriches the blood that good health is certain and is speedily regained. The correction of anemic conditions by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is as certain as anything can be. Miss Teresa Healey, Durarven, Que., is one of the many anemic sufferers who have found health through the use of this medicine. She says: "I cannot express too warmly my thanks for the fact that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me. I was suffering from a badly run-down condition. I was very nervous, had little desire for food, and would feel tired out at the least exertion. In this condition I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and before using them very long found my health gradually improving, and under their continued use was completely restored. For this reason I earnestly advise 'weak' girls to take these pills, feeling sure that they will do for others what they did for me."

Send your name and address to The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ontario, and we will send you a useful little book on "Building Up the Blood." The pills can be obtained through any druggist or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

To have the children sound and healthy is the first care of a mother. They cannot be healthy if troubled with worms. Use "Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator."

Making the Canadian Dollar Go Farther than Ever Before

IN the purchase of the common commodities of life, the Canadian dollar has decreased in value during the past decade.

But, in the purchase of an automobile, the dollar is now worth one hundred to two hundred per cent more than it was seven to ten years ago—is worth more, in fact, than ever before in history.

While constantly raising the quality standard of its products, General Motors of Canada has increased the purchasing power of the Canadian car-buyer's dollar.

... by the economies of volume purchasing and production,

... by the close co-ordination of resources and facilities,

... by improved labor- and time-saving methods of manufacture,

... by sharing with Canada the savings effected by increased production.

In quality and in value, the Canadian dollar now goes farther than ever before in the purchase of a General Motors car.

The rain storm commencing Wednesday evening last and continuing for a day, caused considerable delay and annoyance to the threshing outfit, particularly those that had just started in operation the day before. With the clearing weather, it is hoped the major part of the local threshing will be completed before the approach of another storm. Previous to this storm, the threshermen found that the stocks were drier than at any time for the past five years.

If your eyes bother you, or you suffer from headaches, why not have your eyes attended to by an expert? M M Meeklenburg, eye specialist, will be in Stony Plain Thursday, Oct. 6th.

Be Careful to Whom You Sell

With the repeal of the Produce Act, whereby the sellers of farm produce were protected, the old-time cattle pirates are said to have recommenced operations. A local farmer, a short time ago, is said to have been gypped out of the price of two steers he sold, for which he received a bogus check in payment. The offer of a higher price than your reliable local buyer can give doesn't always mean more money to the farmer selling his produce.

Save Our Reputation.

Alberta hogs are traveling far these days and bringing good money. The quality is excellent and brings repeat orders, but complaints are being made about the large number showing bruises when slaughtered.

These bruises are caused by rough handling from the farm to loading points. Hold your hand and have patience—Blows make bruises and cause heavy losses.

Every precaution should be taken, as otherwise damage to property would result in severe loss.
